This new book has been written to reflect the changes to the Trefoil Guild since Welcome to the Trefoil Guild was published in 2000. Its purpose is to inform members and office holders how the Trefoil Guild works from local Guilds to the National Committees.

One of the great strengths of the Trefoil Guild is the diverse ways that we organise ourselves but every large organisation needs a structure and this book sets out how we conduct our business. We have tried to be comprehensive and include all the details that are needed without constraining individual creativity.

The book should be used in conjunction with the Constitution of the Trefoil Guild which is also in the process of being updated.

I would like to thank all those who have contributed, especially Gillian Spriggs and her hard working group of June Caslaw, Valerie Green, Rena Mann and Barbara Peart. They have covered the ground in a very short time, reading and re-reading the materials and sorting through the many ideas that were submitted to produce this useful document.

Our aims are as relevant today as they were when the idea was conceived and today's members are committed to carrying them out in a practical way.

I hope you find the book helpful and that it enhances your experience of the Trefoil Guild.
